LOUISE CRAY.

—The interest in the protracted meeting at the Methodist church, conducted by the well known evangelist, Rev. J. B. Harris, is growing each day. After the large crowd on the first Sunday night of the meeting the interest seemed to lag a little. By Wednesday the meeting seemed to take on new life and since then the interest has been decidedly active.

Wednesday night the evangelist preached the second sermon of the series on "The Rocks Were Opened." At the close of the sermon more than one hundred persons came forward and shook hands with the evangelist requesting him to pray for them. He then invited all who wanted to seek a renewal of their spiritual life and those who wanted to seek the Saviour to go into the inquiry room for instruction and prayer. A number responded. Nearly all declared their full acceptance of the Saviour.

On Thursday night Rev. Harris preached from the text, Prov. 11-10, "As righteousness tendeth to life so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death." At the close of the sermon a large number gave their hand to the evangelist requesting his prayers among whom were about twenty of the students at M. M. I. applied for membership in the various churches among the number were three of the M. M. I. students and in the after service there were fifteen who professed faith in the Saviour.

Friday morning Rev. Harris conducted services at the M. F. C. during the chapel period. Seventy of the students signified that they had either found Christ for the first time or had been reinstated as a result of the meeting. In the afternoon Friday he conducted an interesting service for the children. In the service Friday night he appealed to the unsaved and asked all of those who were interested in their soul's salvation to come forward and give him their hand. He met with a liberal response.

With each succeeding day interest in the revival continues to increase and people are gathering from the surrounding country to attend the services. Saturday night the work in the inquiry room continued until ten o'clock and about thirty confessed conversion or reclamation.

The audience was unusually large Sunday and the greater part of those present responded to the appeals of the evangelist to lead a pure Christian life. The men's meeting in the afternoon was especially remarkable in the number present, nearly all of whom shook hands with the evangelist pledging themselves to a pure Godly life. The meeting will continue through the week. This afternoon another service will be held for the children.

—We have cranberries, celery, oysters, mince meat, plum pudding, in fact everything that is good for your Thanksgiving dinner. Buy early.

Ancient Petroleum Well.

A petroleum well has been known in Zante, one of the Ionian islands, for nearly 3,000 years. It is mentioned by Herodotus, who was born 484 years before the Christian era.

He Made a Hit.

Binkly—"My gracious, old man, you are all banged up." Crankleigh—"You have hit it." Binkly—"What did you do—dispute the right of way with an automobile?" Crankleigh—"No. Took a drop too much." Binkly—"Why, I didn't know you drank." Crankleigh—"I don't. The drop I took was from an aeroplane 20 feet from the ground."

The Dyspeptic's Kick.

"Alice, you're a good little wife, I know, and you can cook to beat the band; but you don't get the kind of dyspepsia tablets my mother used to buy."—Judge.

Might Do It.

"Do you know anything that will kill potato bugs?" asked the young man with the yellow fingers. "Yes," said the old lady with the gingham apron crustily, "get 'em to smoke cigarettes."—Yonkers Statesman.
